MACHINE TRANSCRIPT · CORAGGIO CONSULTING

Senate of Virginia Floor Session, Monday, June 22, 2026

Date	Monday, June 22, 2026
Place	Senate of Virginia, Senate Chamber, State Capitol, Richmond
Length	3h 23m (video)

- Official floor video (Senate of Virginia, YouTube): https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RNHQtfvCdyM
- LIS Senate minutes: https://lis.virginia.gov/session-details/20261/minutes-list/S

> Machine transcript (speech-to-text) produced by Coraggio Consulting. Not an official county record. Names and numbers may be misspelled; check the video at the timestamp before quoting.

Speech-to-text: whisper.cpp, model large-v3-turbo. Produced 2026-10-17. Each paragraph starts with its time [HH:MM:SS] in the meeting video.

[00:00:11] This is the Senate of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia.

[00:00:15] Senate chamber.

[00:01:16] This is the Senate of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia.

[00:04:15] Chamber.

[00:04:21] Be sure to stay connected with live sessions, catch up on past meetings, and explore our full archives anytime on the Senate of Virginia's YouTube channel.

[00:05:31] This is the Senate of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia.

[00:06:59] Senate chamber.

[00:07:37] This is the Senate of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia.

[00:10:05] Senate chamber.

[00:10:43] Be sure to stay connected with live sessions, catch up on past meetings, and explore our full archives anytime on the Senate of Virginia's YouTube channel.

[00:11:51] This is the Senate of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia.

[00:12:57] Senate Chamber.

[00:13:58] This is the Senate of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia.

[00:16:58] Senate Chamber.

[00:17:15] Be sure to stay connected with live sessions, catch up on past meetings, and explore our full archives anytime on the Senate of Virginia's YouTube channel.

[00:18:43] This is the Senate of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia, chamber.

[00:20:18] This is the Senate of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia, Senate chamber.

[00:23:23] Be sure to stay connected with live sessions, catch up on past meetings, and explore our full archives anytime on the Senate of Virginia's YouTube channel.

[00:24:57] This is the Senate of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia, chamber.

[00:26:39] This is the Senate of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia, Senate chamber.

[00:29:46] Be sure to stay connected with live sessions, catch up on past meetings, and explore our full archives anytime on the Senate of Virginia's YouTube channel.

[00:30:54] The Senate will come to order. The Senators will please take their seats. Those persons not entitled to the privileges of the floor will retire to the gallery. The Senators and all in attendance will please stand if you are able.

[00:31:26] We will be led in prayer this morning by the Reverend Dr. Noel Schoonmaker from the Second Baptist Church in Richmond. And following the prayer, we will be led in the Pledge of Allegiance by Thomas Antigua from the Support Services of the Senate Clerk's Office.

[00:31:47] Let us pray. Almighty God, in the overflow of your eternal love, you created the heavens and the earth with goodness and beauty and fashioned us in your own image. marking every human being with uninfringible dignity and inestimable worth.

[00:32:07] As we thank you for creating us in your magnificent love, we recognize you have created us to love one another in accordance with ancient, time-tested scriptures, therefore. Help us to love family and friends, to love neighbors and strangers, to love those who are down and out, and to love even our enemies.

[00:32:30] Through your holy inspiration, make love the rumination of our minds, the motivation of our hearts, the indication of our speech, the demonstration of our conduct, and the implication of our work for your glory and for the benefit of all who inhabit this great commonwealth. Amen.

[00:32:54] I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic of France, one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

[00:33:19] The clerk will call the roll. All those present, please vote aye.

[00:33:49] The clerk will close the roll. You have a quorum, Madam President. Senate Journal for Thursday, April 23, 2006.

[00:34:05] the senator from Roanoke moves that the reading of the journal be waived all in favor of waiving the reading of the journal will record their votes aye those opposed no are the senators ready to vote have all the senators voted do any senators desire to change their vote the clerk will close the roll ayes

31 noes 7 ayes 31 noes 7 the reading of the journal is waived the clerk will report any communications from the house of delegates we do not have any madam president. The clerk will report any communications from the

[00:34:45] governor. We do not have any madam president. We've now arrived at the time in our morning hour when we have the honor of welcoming our distinguished guests who are joining us today in the gallery. I give my daily reminder of our usual procedure. A senator will rise and offer the introduction for their guests and then I will offer the welcome of the Senate. I ask that we all hold our applause until I've had the opportunity to provide the Senate's welcome. The chair recognizes the senator from Western Henrico. Thank you, Madam

[00:35:23] President. Madam President, I rise for the purposes of introduction. The senator has the floor. Thank you, Madam President. Madam President, members of the body, today the invocation was given by Dr. Noel Schumacher. If he could please stand. Dr. Schumacher is a friend of the Senate. You will recognize him. He was here earlier in the session and we thank him for being able to come and come down here on short notice to give the invocation and get us started on this auspicious day. And so if we could please give him a warm welcome. Thank you Senator for the introduction and thank you Reverend Schoonmacher again for your words of prayer this morning and especially

[00:35:59] your message of a universal love that embraces all. I think that's a message we continuously need to remind ourselves of. Thank you for joining us and Senators I ask that we give the very warm welcome of the Senate to the Reverend Dr. Schoenmacher.

[00:36:21] Is there any other business for the morning hour? The chair recognizes the senator from Eastern Fairfax.

[00:36:40] Good morning, Madam President. Good morning. Madam President, I would move that we suspend the rules and grant the privileges of the floor to certain distinguished persons. Senate Finance Committee staff, I guess. They are distinguished.

[00:36:56] They're distinguished, too. Senator, we are going to go to recess for the presentation. if you could move to have the chamber go in recess. Okay, got it. I move that we stand in before that.

[00:37:13] Senator from Hanover. The journal will reflect that the gentleman from Lynchburg is away from the Capitol and pressing personal business. The journal will so reflect. Thank you, Senator. Senator from Eastern Fairfax. Thank you, Madam President. I move that we stand in recess, I guess for probably about 30 minutes so we can get a briefing on the conference report.

[00:37:31] Without objection, the Senate will be in recess for the presentation by the Senate Finance.

[00:37:37] and appropriations staff.

[00:41:01] Sorry. I want to call the meeting of the Senate Finance and Appropriations Committee to order. Staff, please call the roll. Senator Aird. Senator Bagby. Senator Rouse.

[00:41:18] Senator Pillian. Senator Boisco. Senator McPike. Senator Surivelle. Senator Favola. Senator Reeves. Senator Stewart. Senator Obenshain.

[00:41:33] Senator McDougall. Senator Locke. Senator Deeds. Senator Lucas. Here. You have a quorum Madam Chair. Thank you. Just for the record I will hold my comments this morning until we take up the conscious report on the budget and at this time I would ask committee staff to begin their presentation.

April I turn it over to you. Madam Chair thank you. We will try to go through this very quickly but please let us know if you have questions. I'll start on page four with just a quick recap related to the 2026 session just a reminder that your mandatory budget pressures were

[00:42:11] outpacing revenue growth and required attention for structural balance through the next biennium. Medicaid and K-12 re-benchmarking needs are really the biggest ones that are outpacing that growth. There are some large one-time balances that contemporary bridge the gap but can't be relied upon long term.

[00:42:28] You'll see that in the conference report today. Federal actions are contributing to that pressure on the general fund revenue and spending and revenue growth it's expected to slow. There's going to be there have been cuts in federal workforce. We have overexposure to the professional business sector jobs which are also being contracted based on those federal government reductions. HR1 or the big beautiful bill, depending on your preference, shifted significant costs for the SNAP program and required additional spending to implement the work requirements under Medicaid. The introduced budget did not account for some of that funding. You'll see that though in the conference report. Medicaid

[00:43:06] conformity tax decisions have already been done in the caboose bill that you passed earlier during the regular session, but there could be further federal actions that could reduce appropriations or shift more focus to doing program requirements in the state. Turning to slide five, this conference report prioritizes affordability and structural balance. Some of the things you're going to see. There's an increase in the standard deduction in both 2027 and 2028, providing additional funding back to the citizens. In K-12 and

[00:43:44] childcare, there's almost 30 million for at-risk, 60 million in flexible per- pupil amounts, about 150 million for special ed, 17.6 million for school breakfast, and 25 million for a child care pilot. Anya, when she does K-12, we'll go into more detail on that. Under health care, there is an increase in Medicaid personal care and waiver rates, maintains the prenatal care program, and then there's a hundred and fifty million for the expiring enhanced ACA tax credits under the under the SEC, and Mike will cover that in more detail. Under housing eviction diversion and utilities, there's sixty million for housing initiatives,

[00:44:24] eleven and a half for the Virginia eviction reduction program, and ten million for the Clean Energy Innovation Bank. And just a note, because there have been so many different proposals, the pay increases proposed in this conference report are four percent in each year for teachers to help get you to that national average, and then there's three and a half percent per year for state employees and state-supported locals. This builds a structurally balanced budget and includes there's some additional electricity consumption tax on data centers which we'll cover in the in the minute, but right now I'm going to turn

[00:44:56] it over to Tyler to cover resources. Turning to slide six, slide six is the current budget that we're in finishing the fiscal year. It's proposed two point three billion dollars carry forward from fiscal year twenty seven or twenty six to twenty seven. This is a hundred and twenty hundred and ninety two million higher than what was assumed in the introduced House Bill 30. So when you turn to slide seven you see the carry forward balance is higher at seven 177 million in this conference report. That also includes the 585.5 million

[00:45:32] that the governor re-forecasted for fiscal year 26. There's the forecast adjustment for fiscal year 27 and 28 and then that gives you a net resource increase for this conference report of about four billion dollars and then spending totals four billion dollars in the conference report leaving an unappropriated balance of a hundred and eighty million approximately. And then And turning to slide eight, these are the resource policy actions.

[00:45:57] You'll see the conformity, the re-forecast amounts for fiscal year 27 and 28. There's assumed revenue from cannabis, which is an additional enactment in the bill. There's the data center electricity consumption tax, and then the revenue reduction for the standard deduction, and then other transfers and balance adjustments.

[00:46:16] I'll turn it back over to April. Turning to slide nine, these are the items related to data centers. likely heard about this consumption tax. It imposes a data center electricity consumption tax at a rate of 0.011 kilowatt per hour on all electricity consumed at each data center per month. It deposits no more than $600 million of the revenue to the general fund with the excess revenue being refunded on a pro rata basis to each payer after the close of the fiscal year. Under the Joint Subcommittee on Tax Policy, there's a study. That group will review the sales

[00:46:53] and use tax exemption and other impacts on both positive and negative from data centers and make recommendations later this year. Under DEQ there are both water standards and noise standards. For water it's related to cooling water scarcity areas to minimize those impacts on water. For noise there are regulations that are going to set standards and I believe a fine. Staff will cover that in more detail when we get there. Under the State Corporation Commission there's additional language related to the collection of data both on energy water and generator usage. Turning to slide 10, there are some additional enactments.

[00:47:32] There's the optional 1% sales tax that authorizes all localities to issue a referendum for an additional 1% local sales tax to support school construction. However, in addition to that, in planning district 8, there's the permission to use the optional sales tax for school construction, public transportation, or combination of those two. Tyler mentioned cannabis is a separate enactment. You may see it's a separate document printed for you it's the last amendment if you're looking online it includes that leg legislation for a regulated adult use marketplace for that purpose there's also some changings to the

[00:48:08] undergrounding bill that needed to be made as well and if there are no questions I'll turn it over to Anya to cover public and other education right madam chair madam chair if I may I had one quick question senator D staff thank Madam Chair, April. My question is on the data centers. I see the 0.011 percent tax on them, or I'm sorry we're not calling it tax, we're calling it a electricity consumption tax.

[00:48:46] How was that determined and how was the cap determined on that? So it's on top of the existing one and Tyler can speak to that in more detail if you would like him to on the the fact on a cap you can't really have a cap when you're collecting um revenue that way so the mechanism that does that basically that says you know the first 600 million each year will go to the general fund the rest of that amount gets deposited in a fund and then is distributed back on a pro-rata basis based on what was paid in and madam chair if

[00:49:22] i may i just want to get clarification on that first part of the question so how was the 0.011 per kilowatt hour determined. Where did we come up with it? Thank you. The SEC collected the data on the utilities, Madam Chair and Senator DeStuff. It's based on their data. So, Madam Chair, I just want to make sure we're clarifying. So, the SEC recommended a 0.11 cents per kilowatt to the data centers? Madam Chair, Senator DeStuff, you might remember the Senate had a different proposal last week so what I'm

[00:50:01] gonna say to you is this was a previous proposal from the administration but the date at the to get to the 600 million the data from the SEC was used to calculate an amount that would result in 600 million per year just want to clarify so the basically we're saying the governor's office said 600 million from here and we said okay we'll take that. Madam Chair, Senator DeStef, I don't believe that's the way it was done. There was a compromise agreement between the Senate and House and obviously there was input from the governor's office. The

[00:50:38] compromise agreement was six hundred million dollars per year for the data centers to pay what Senator Lucas would dub their fair share. I will not comment that as a staff person but that's what the agreement was and then using the data that the State Corporation Commission had staffs from both bodies calculated what was needed to achieve that amount and then again because we don't have perfect data any amount above that will be in the fund and then redistributed back to those payers on a pro rata basis I'm sure I just want to make sure I understand this right so we said we want to hit 1.2 billion over the biennium so

[00:51:16] we're gonna hit 600 million we worked with data from the governor's office the house but 1.2 billion just kind of a number we said this is going to be their fair share for the biennium madam chair senator de step that was an agreement between the conferees from the house and the Senate on the amount and that was calculated to the best of our ability based on that amount that was a compromise thank you madam chair thank you April you're welcome there are no further questions on that section I'll turn it over to Anya to do k-12 and

[00:51:48] education. Public education and other education begins on slide 12. I'll move relatively quickly here since a number of these items were mentioned on an earlier slide when April talked about kind of the key features. The conference report provides a net increase of 1.4 billion to direct aid when combined with the introduced budget. The first bullet should look familiar to you. It's 579 million over the biennium to recognize the cost of re-benchmarking and this is primarily driven as a reminder by changes in non-personnel costs and offset

[00:52:25] by enrollment declines and VRS rate adjustments and for anybody that's curious the details on what goes into that number are in the appendix. The second bullet provides 770.8 million general fund over the biennium to support the state share of a 4% compensation increase for instructional and support positions as April mentioned earlier. There's targeted support for higher-need student groups including about 30 million over the biennium for increasing the at-risk add-on, about 150 million to increase the special education add-on, and then 17.6 million over the biennium to increase the school breakfast reimbursement rate. There's also 60 million general fund the

[00:53:05] first year to increase the infrastructure and operations per pupil amount, and then 25 million to support the employee child care assistance program which was established in legislation passed by both bodies this year, and there's also some language around that program to kind of lay out some of the provisions there. And then the last thing highlighted on this slide is that 285 million general fund over the biennium is supplanted by a like amount from the literary fund to support teacher retirement. Slide 13 details some of the things I just mentioned in a table so you can see the introduced actions, the conference proposal, and then the total. As I mentioned the 4%

[00:53:42] compensation supplement is highlighted on the first line of this table and you can see some of the other investments there. Moving to slide 14 which touches on early childhood and some select language amendments. I already mentioned the Employer Child Care Assistance Program and then in the language amendments a number of these are from the introduced budget, so should look familiar to you, but there are a few things there including a review of funding mechanisms for regional career and technical education centers and making recommendations for potential changes in the future. And then slide 15 details some of the Department of Education amendments. One thing that I

[00:54:20] would highlight here is that there is 1.3 million dollars to support the joint subcommittee on elementary and secondary education funding and of that amount $250,000 will be ongoing to support the work that comes out of that joint subcommittee. And then slide 16 details the other education investments. One thing I'll highlight here is that there's an investment in state aid to local libraries and then the actions to fund the Science Museum and the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts from the introduced budget are both maintained. If there are

[00:54:51] are no questions on public education I'll turn to Tyler for higher education I'm turning to slide 18 so the investment in higher education is a total of four hundred and fifteen million dollars when combined with the introduced there's a hundred and ten million to maintain affordability for in-state undergraduate students at the public universities there's 65 million for the undergraduate financial aid for the public higher eds there's 25.7 million for the workforce credential grant program there's 20 million and one-time support to help align higher education operations to enrollment levels there's

[00:55:30] money for the community college for their career and technical workforce development programs that's 20 million and then a 19 million dollar investment for the tuition assistance grant program turning to slide 19 it includes the things that I mentioned before as long as well as some specific targeted funding for institutions such as nursing at James Madison Radford and Mary Washington and then on slide 20 our additional targeted supports the one thing I'll note on the tuition assistance grant program is 15.4 million for the TAG program is to increase the award to five or to pay for the award at five thousand two hundred and fifty based on enrollment at those

[00:56:07] institutions madam chair moving on to health and human resources starting on slide 20 just to kind of give you the highlights so the conference conference report over the biennium provides an additional 400 million general fund above the introduced which brings the total for the biennium of three billion dollars of course the core of that funding is the Medicaid forecast to maintain the current program but significant spending amendments include the first 150

[00:56:45] million for marketplace health insurance subsidies this would cover all those individuals and households up to 250% of the poverty level this is actually appropriated in state the State Corporation Commission but it's just shown here because it's health care related there's 135 million reserved for the the cost of per HR 1 for this federal SNAP benefits if the state's error rate is higher than 8% or 10% or whatever whatever it is and there is some match that's required that's included here just 50 million for drinking water projects under health there's 44 million under for to

[00:57:20] increase personal care rates under Medicaid there's 35 million and this is kind of new compared to the committee budgets 35 million is a one-time add-on in the first year is to increase support for nursing facilities there's also about 32 million for core public health services 29 and a half million to restore the famous prenatal program which had been reduced in the introduced budget and the 22.5 million um to increase dd waste waiver service rates above what was in the introduced budget so turning aside 23 for d mass i've touched on most of the big ones there's some other smaller items in here to participate in the cell and gene therapy access model for sickle cell disease treatment there's money in there for

[00:58:00] that for the state to participate there's additional money for graduate medical residency is paid for by Medicaid and slide 24 some smaller things there is some funding in the final conference report for the implementation of the single PBM for Medicaid as well as for Medicaid program integrity vendor moving to slide 25 for DMAS this just kind of highlights most of these were introduced budget actions that were maintained so slide 26 just to note some the mass language items the redesign of behavior health services this next phase

[00:58:35] is delayed for another year to July 1st of 2027 also mentioned funding was put in for the single PBM but this does let that they do have to have it actually implemented by January 1st to 2028 and then other notes there's requirements for 340 B data report reporting requirements of cover entities there's also provisions were eliminated the requirement for it hospitals to contact though MCOs was limited. And then the restriction for closing labor and delivery departments is limited to just rural hospitals. So unless there's any questions for DMAS, I'll turn it over to Ren to cover the other agencies in HHR.

[00:59:13] So on slide 27 for DBHDS there weren't any major changes here. Just to point out we did include the 11.4 million to fully fund the remaining 13 CSBs for the Marcus Alert System and then if you flip to slide 29 looking at DSS as I'm sure y'all know HR one shifted a significant portion of the snap funding to the states and so the first line here that's for snap benefits which is dependent on the state's error rate we included 135 million which is um the

[00:59:51] result of an error rate between 8 to 10 percent we don't know this for sure yet that's more of a placeholder for now we also maintain the governor's introduced budget of a hundred point four million for the snap administrative costs which shifted snap cost from 50% to 75% state state share the third line here is for SB 640 relating to centralized intake the governor's introduced budget had the total funding so the negative 29.2 is just to conform that with the bill has passed which had a phased in approach to centralized intake if we flip to slide

[01:00:27] 32 VDH the first one up here is the 50 million for the grants for drinking water projects 20 million of which is reserved for Richmond line - we have funding for public health core services and medical facility inspectors so we added an additional six MFI positions on top of the two included in the introduced budget along with further support for epidemiology and different technology infrastructure we also maintain the 15.1 to fully fund the EHR or electronic health record system and we included 13.2 million to backfill

[01:01:01] certain reductions to the Ryan White HIV AIDS program Part B and then lastly slide 35 these are for the remaining HHR agencies just as a reminder we have the 136.1 million for the CSA forecast and we also have 5.8 for area agencies on aging and some other smaller items here and if anyone has any questions Before I turn it over to Katie.

[01:01:32] Moving on to slide 38 for public safety and veterans, the biggest items from conference amendments include 18.2 million in general fund to expand community violence reduction programs, 8.2 million general fund for a $1,000 facility bonus for DOC and DJJ, Department of Corrections and Department of Judenial Justice, 6 million for sexual assault and domestic violence survivor agencies to help address workloads, and 4.8 million for court-appointed special advocates.

[01:02:01] on to slide 39 I'm just a couple things I'll highlight is that the conference report maintains 93.8 million over the biennium for Virginia State Police operations including continued trooper schools and Vita transformation that's in addition to 50.3 million that was provided in the caboose in this fiscal year and there's also 59.7 million for increased inmate medical costs in addition to about 25 million dollars that was in the caboose moving on to slide 40 just to highlight one thing that's a conference agreement between the House and the Senate. And this conference report expands safer communities to all nine localities that have the highest homicide rate, as

[01:02:41] highlighted by JLARC. The conference report also eliminates the operation ceasefire program, however it creates a set-aside of about six or seven million dollars each year that can fund group violence intervention as part of the firearm violence intervention and prevention fund, and it does increase that funding to accommodate that streamlining and combination of programs moving to the final slide in this section slide 41 happy to answer questions but overall I'll just highlight that there's an 11.8 million dollar increase over the biennium for agencies of veterans and defense affairs and then finally moving to slide 42 many of these items you've seen before but

[01:03:21] I'll mostly just highlight that there are a few bills where language is included where the bill passed the house and then there was an understanding when the bill came before the Senate Finance and Appropriations Committee that some or similar language would be included in the conference report one of those bills is a bill about strengthening Department of Corrections reentry services and then a couple that touch on public safety even though they're technically under general government is a bill that authorizes the compensation board to withhold payments from jails that don't comply with death reporting requirements and there's also a study under judicial about court fines and fees unless there are questions I can hand it over to Anya to do Commerce in

[01:03:58] The overview of commerce and trade is on slide 44. The conference report increases funding by a hundred twenty one point one million general fund when compared to the introduced budget bill and significant investments over the biennium include sixty million to invest in housing housing initiatives including forty million dollars for the housing trust fund and twenty million for a mixed income housing pilot based on legislation from this session. There's also twenty five million dollars of unobligated balances to support weatherization efforts, and those would be based on the recommendations of a

[01:04:36] task force that was established in legislation this session. There's 10 million for the Virginia Clean Energy Bank, 11.5 million for the Virginia Eviction Reduction Program, and 7 million for Prentice Street transmission water main improvements. And the details on kind of a breakout of other items are included on slides 45, 46, and 47, and then some language items are detailed on slide 48. That top bullet just provides a little bit more detail on the weatherization investment that I just mentioned from unobligated balances and then there's a few other items here that for the most part are in line with

[01:05:13] things that you've seen before. If there aren't any questions on commerce and trade I'll turn to Mike for labor. Madam Chair so labor is actually very quick there are only a few items I just mentioned too. The largest funding one is ten point one million to support various labor laws that were passed in the general assembly such as like the paid sick leave law etc and also note too there's a language amendment authorized the treasury loan for the startup costs associated with the paid and family medical leave program so if you have any questions i will turn it over to eric to talk about

[01:05:46] agriculture and forestry and natural resources madam chair um looking at slide 52 there's um which addresses the overview of a conference report it applies to agriculture and forestry so there's an increase in funding from in the report of seven and a half million dollars general fund compared to the introduced budget the three items you see there four million to support the Virginia agricultural food assistance and the implementation of the Virginia fresh bat match program two million dollars general fund for Shenandoah County and the Great Meadows Foundation for equine

[01:06:25] events and 1.6 for cannabis for the cannabis retail market regulation that is money that is split across the wage and weights and measures program and the food safety and security program and then there's also language and amendment language about authorizing carry forward of general fund support for the large animal veterinary grant program turning to slide 53 the first four rows you see there we just talked about if there's any questions I'm happy to answer those

[01:07:01] otherwise I will continue with the overview the conference report for natural and historic resources the report increases funding by over 313 million dollars general fund compared to the introduced budget for an overall increase of about 520 582 million dollars over the biennium and the report includes money for a deposit into the water quality improvement fund of more than 188 million dollars sorry 50 million dollars for the Richmond

[01:07:35] combined sewer overflow project a little more than 43 million for stormwater local assistance fund and 25 million deposited to the SWCDs dam maintenance repair and rehabilitation fund this also includes a phase one and phase two utility customer credit funded from 45% of the reggie revenue for residential small general service and church classes customers and slide 56 we talked about

[01:08:09] the first five or six rows that you see there to the below the soil and water conservation district dam repair money there's an additional ten point six million dollars general fund to support landfill closure activities in Chesterfield County related to remediating an issue there and moving on and to slide 50 slide 60 rather the resource language items so the conference

[01:08:44] report as April mentioned directs DEQ to address both data center water usage and noise this slide addresses kind of provides more detail for the water usage it requires DEQ to establish criteria for cooling water scarcity areas where evaporation water for cooling purposes could have detrimental reductions in the quality or quantity of water available for beneficial purposes

[01:09:13] Requires existing data...

[01:09:37] Continuing on slide 60, so it also requires the existing data centers in a cooling water scarcity area, which mentioned will be identified determined by DEQ, to certify that to the department that a center will use air cooling closed loop cooling systems or more efficient cooling systems by July 1st of 2032 it also requires a new data centers that would be in the Eastern Virginia groundwater management area that seek de seek approval from DEQ for air water or for air quality permits that after January 1st of 2027 they also

[01:10:15] use air cooling systems either 100% recycled water and/or storm water for cooling or a closed loop system and then the last bullet addresses the requirement by October 15th of 2026 that the department study and then provide for provide a plan for retrofitting existing centers in the Eastern Virginia groundwater management area to use the air cooling systems the 100% recycled water and or storm water for cooling or a closed loop system and then on slide 61 it addresses the the noise component so that directs the EQ

[01:10:52] to adopt and enforce regulations no later than December 31st of 2029 that would identify or determine the lowest achievable noise for such centers establish the global lowest achievable noise for a data center and then providing that on or after January 1st of 2030 any data center that violates such regulations subject to a civil penalty of up to more than $32,000 per day of violation.

[01:11:23] It also, finally, the last sub bullet there is about the regulations shall not limit the authority of any locality to adopt more restrictive local ordinances related to noise. And finally, on slide 62, Madam Chair, additional language items include directing the department DEQ to revise Virginia Waste Management Board's financial assurance regulations for solid waste disposal transfer and treatment to ensure financial assurance is sufficient. It provides flexibility for two wastewater treatment

[01:11:59] plants in the state to use ARPA funds and then still qualify for WQIF money in the future and it clarifies a mechanism for DEQ to prioritize WQIF eligible projects and it establishes those reporting dates. Madam Chair be happy to answer any questions and I will turn it over to Brent. So on slide 64 we have transportation. The first one here is funding for WMATA operating support so 153 million in the first year which can be carried over to the second year. We

[01:12:38] have 19 million the first year for transit capital assistance. We have 7 million for the Virginia Coalfields Expressway project. We have 300,000 general fund for the Hampton roads transit study we maintain 20 million for the continued development of the inland port in Washington County among some other things we removed 24 million from the ERC toll relief the first year and kept the second year and ongoing funding and then there were some VDOT adjustments in the governor's introduced budget and then also as a reminder if April mentioned this earlier but the optional 1% sales tax is allowed to be used for planning district 8 for transportation anyone has any questions

[01:13:16] turn it over to Mike so the general government areas starting allowed 67 provides the overview the largest amounts of these would pretty much be in the central appropriations part of the budget conference report adds 1.5 billion over that to bring the total to 2.2 billion the largest share of that a 714 million general fund over the biennium to fund a three and a half percent salary increase each year for state employees and state supported local employees just to note in the first year also just because of timing and when this is being passed the state employees would see the pay increase in their

[01:13:54] August 16th paychecks and the following year would be in their July 1st paychecks then there's over 430 million to fund the employer's share of the state employee health insurance premiums as well as a lump sum deposit the first year of 200 million the premium cost of course of the program and the payouts have definitely increased mainly due to pharmaceutical drugs so this is to help replenish the fund and reflect higher premium cost. There's a $350 million set aside in the first year as the Medicaid reserve as a contingency for higher program costs. There's also over $200 million for federal funding uncertainty funds, so additional actions in Congress that may impact the state. There would be

[01:14:33] some resources to sort of mitigate that on a temporary basis. And then there's $93.6 million was added to reduce the unfunded liabilities by about 15% for state employee retiree health insurance credit. If you move to slide 68 for legislative and executive offices just to note conference report does include include the pay increase for legislators that would be effective after the next election and that would increase it to $50,000 per year. Most of the other changes in legislative are just staff and other costs for other commissions. There are additional 10 positions and 1.2 million added per year for positions in the governor's office. Then in the Office of the Attorney

[01:15:13] general there's about 9.7 million most of this is to cover increasing cost for the attorneys within the within the office as well as some additional staffing for increased responsibilities and you can see there's also additional money for staffing costs related to different legislation that passed impacting their workload so with that I will turn it over to Katie just to handle judicial and the compensation board moving to slide 69 I'll just highlight a couple things that are newer compared to the introduced there's the full amount that was included in the Senate budget for public defender support staff and include in legislation includes new judgeships per the legislation that

[01:15:51] passed so that's all four types of courts general district juvenile domestic relations circuit courts and Court of Appeals and then moving on to compensation board on slide 70 the only thing I'll highlight is that the conference report does maintain the increased paralegal salaries for Commonwealth's attorneys I'm given that increase for public defenders and you'll see this on a future slide but because it's in my area there is money for the wrongful incarceration bill that passed the Senate and also some language that allows a previous awardee to have his annuity paid out in a lump sum to align it with the current policy and statute if there are no questions I can hand it

[01:16:30] back to Mike for the remainder of general government so just to finish our administration slide 70 just two things on there there's additional funding of course for the run elections to and to reflect different laws that were passed impacted them including the cost of the referendums. In DGS there's 1.8 million for the removal of several statues in Capitol Square. On the next slide 71 for the finance agencies really the only major funding change was that the wrongful incarceration bill that was passed by the General Assembly was included. There's also in the language a tax work group related to property tax

[01:17:06] exemptions. Then moving to slide 72 central appropriations. I already reference all these this is where all the big dollar amounts that I referenced earlier located so that's just you can see them there on the slide compared to the introduced and then moving to slide 73 independent agencies this is where the marketplace subsidies that 150 million is appropriated there's also the second year reduction for the cannabis control authority revenue as the cannabis bill would replace that fee revenue so it no longer would require general fund support and the rest of these actions you see are pretty much either non

[01:17:42] general fund or language actions for other independent agencies and then lastly on slide 74 just in general government different language items a lot of these things are tied to reviewing like weight loss drug costs within the state health plans there's a direction for lottery to look at age verification and then there's several things just related to like carry forwards and turn our vacancy reporting provide more information about that to the general assembly and then just you can see it's some other smaller things as well. So unless there are any questions, I will turn over to Tyler to cover capital

[01:18:16] outlay. Madam Chair, turning to slide 76, the capital outlay proposal totals 3.4 billion, 2.5 billion of that is general fund supported with 58% of it and general fund cash, which is a good use of one-time funding when building structural balance in the budget. And turning now to the projects on slide 77, this details the capital construction pool. The two notes here, there used to be two Longwood projects now there's a there used to be two Longwood projects in the introduced there are two Longwood projects still but now there is

[01:18:51] the higher priority renovate building systems in Coiner Hall it defers a funding decision for a project at VMI on slide 79 it details the education secretariat funding and then on slide 80 the changes here there's additional money for parking facility maintenance for the Department of General Services there's money for air ventilation issues at Department of Correction facilities and then there's also the deferral of a funding decision on Oak Hill. Madam Chair that completes the staff presentation if there are any more

[01:19:27] questions. Madam Chair I'll just make a couple of notes there's an appendix that has the summary and k-12 and direct aid of the technical and re-benchmarking actions just in case anybody wanted to look back at that and there's also on slide 83 a summary of the supplementals under direct aid as well I will note you got passed out the distribution tables for localities as well and for the public I did want to note the PowerPoint presentation the key feature bullets which look like that which members you should have gotten that as well and

[01:20:05] those distribution tables are posted on our website and madam chair if there are no other questions that completes our any other questions thank you madam chair madam chair April one quick question has there been an analysis on what is the economic impact on the general Virginia family the average Virginia family based on this budget madam chair senator D stuff I would say in the last few days we have not been able to do a whole cloth analysis of

[01:20:41] there are a number of positive things which we mentioned in our review of this of this PowerPoint presentation but I don't have a sum total for you at this time. Madam Chair, one follow-up if I may. Senator DeStef, follow-up. Thank you Madam Chair. April, when that analysis is finished will it be communicated or how will it be communicated to the members of the General Assembly? Madam Chair, Senator DeStef, we can attempt to do that type of analysis as we do our post session summary document. Madam Chair April thank you very much. Madam

[01:21:19] Chairman. Senator McDougall. Madam Chairman as I was skimming through this one that I missed over the weekend was on page 124 item 243 3C and it talks about consolidation of higher education institutions. Can y'all tell me which higher education institutions are going to be consolidated? Madam Chair, Sarah

[01:21:58] McDougall, the item you're referencing on page 124 item 243 number 3C, it's one-time support to support consolidation and restructuring efforts at each individual institution. So if they're facing enrollment challenges, they could offer a number of one-time solutions that might help with their cost going forward. But there were no specific mentions of anyone's, of any institutions consolidating into one institution from multiple. It was consolidation efforts at each individual institution if they decide.

[01:22:33] Other questions? If there are no further questions before the committee, the committee will rise.

[01:22:48] Senate will return to order. The chair recognizes the senator from Eastern

[02:13:17] Fairfax. Madam President, I move that we suspend the rules and grant the Privileges of the floor to the members of the Senate Finance Committee staff. The question is, shall the rules be suspended and the privileges of the floor be granted to the staff of the Senate Finance and Appropriations Committee?

[02:13:40] All in favor of that motion will record their votes aye. Those opposed, no. Are the senators ready to vote? Have all the senators voted? Do any senators desire to change their vote? The clerk will close the roll. Ayes 39, no 0.

[02:13:59] the rules are suspended and the privileges of the floor are granted. The

[02:14:28] clerk will now call the calendar. Senate calendar for Monday, June 22nd, 2026. House Bill 30. The chair recognizes the senator from Portsmouth. Thank you, Madam President. Before us this morning, we have a budget that is great for the

[02:15:06] citizens of the Commonwealth. This conference report took longer than most, but the Senate conferees and I spent a lot of time trying to find the right balance between compromising with the house and the governor and having something that made the data centers pay their fair share this budget achieves that right balance and the citizen house and the governor's office all had input into this final project however let me be clear I will still continue to look at this issue around data centers with our work group this year and I plan to continue my listening tours with the citizens across the Commonwealth of

[02:15:43] Virginia anyone that knows me understands that I stand with the people work towards representing their interest. As data centers they will pay an additional consumption fee that will provide 1.2 billion dollars over the biennium. There's also language in this budget that provides new protections and work around both noise pollution and water conservation. I already mentioned the work group and it will look at the sales exemption use issue over the course of this year and there's also funding set aside to provide for

[02:16:22] for additional environmental monitoring. We have heard the people and we are responding. This additional revenue allows us to fund and make progress in our core services. This conference report prioritizes affordability for our citizens and long-term structural balance. The conference report provides hard-working Virginians immediate relief. It exempts more income from state taxation by increasing the standard deduction and also provides a utility build credit to Virginians. We're also supporting families and children in the

[02:17:00] Commonwealth by funding additional public-private childcare slots, increasing across the school breakfast and other services to meet the needs of students, and supporting our special education students. In addition, we're able to provide 4% raises each year for our teachers. For state employees and state-supported locals, we're providing 3.5% raises each year. Other investment highlights include more than $60 million for housing initiatives, increasing personal care rates in Medicaid, $150 million for health insurance market

[02:17:37] subsidies, $50 million for grants for drink and water projects, additional investments for state police, and $175 million to maintain higher education accessibility and affordability at our public colleges. I still believe that And expiring, the data center sales and use tax exemption would be the best playing forward.

[02:18:01] However, this conference report provides an alternative path where data centers pay their fair share to support services for Virginia and ensure structural balance. I hope you will vote with me today on the budget. As I have said before and many times before, I hear and stand with the hardworking Virginians who demand a fair shake in this economy.

[02:18:26] I believe this budget provides that for the people of the Commonwealth. With that, Madam President, I move that the conference report be agreed to.

[02:18:41] The chair recognizes the senator from Western Prince William. Thank you, Madam President. Madam President, speaking to the bill. Senator has the floor. Thank you, Madam President. I should say, speaking to the conference report, number one, first off, Madam President, I'd like to thank our other Madam President here, President Pro Tem, because she battled for the position of the Senate.

[02:19:02] The budget that was passed by the Senate back in February was really strong. I don't only say that because I authored the budget amendment that would have repealed the data center sales tax exemption in the first place, but we put in significant money to do a lot of really good things.

[02:19:18] And I can tell you, after how everything has gone, after the President Pro Tem came to my district, along with the senior senator from Loudoun, and we heard from hundreds of people there and we heard viscerally that there is an urgency to do something now about the out-of-control reckless data center sprawl that we're seeing. I know the President Pro Tem went in as hard as she could and fought as hard as she could for the position of the Senate and for that, Madam President, I am grateful. I'm genuinely grateful for everything and the vote that I cast in

[02:19:56] favor the budget today will be because I know she went as far as she could to make sure that she had the best thing possible for us. That does not mean that everything that's in here is what the Senate position was and what we wanted. I want and I'm going to tell the body here and I'll tell the Madam President here that I will be resubmitting my budget amendment next year to end the data center sales tax exemption for the fourth year in a row because it is so critically important that we are not subsidizing corporate greed of a multi-trillion dollar industry with individual

[02:20:36] multi-trillion dollar players at this point. We cannot afford to keep giving away billions of dollars to the richest corporations in America. We can't do that. That's not sustainable. the consumption taxes does not go as far as we would want but at 1.2 billion over the biennium is not nothing it is something and even that was hard fought and successful to get in there there are other environmental things and I think the senator from King George could speak to the water issues even probably more than I could on this but it is progress that we're making at least

[02:21:14] regarding water I'm not a fan of the timeline I would like things to start clicking in July 1 of this year, let's go. That would meet the urgency of the moment. We're not there yet. I'm going to just fully say that. Same thing when it comes to other environmental issues. The noise part, I think, is really good in the budget. Even that will take time to implement. There are still a lot more we can do and should be doing now. And I wish the Senate budget that we passed in February had been the vehicle that got to the governor's desk. It's not, though. And for where we are in

[02:21:50] June, what do we have in front of us? We have in front of us today something that does move the ball, something that does at least give us the opportunity to address major policy considerations that this legislature needs to deal with, including, rightfully so, having the Joint Subcommittee on Tax Policy as opposed to a new commission deal with the policy issues around taxation for data centers. I think that was a very important change that happened in this conference report compared to what the House had proposed in the lead up to the conference report. That's

[02:22:28] critically different. Next part here. Let's go into the actual money part. Madam President, I don't know how many people in this room, and I assume I'm not the only one here, have ever lived uninsured for a long period of time. But I did. I was uninsured for two and a half years at one point, it wasn't a long time ago this was in my early 30s I've lived it I don't want anyone to live like that we know right now because the ramifications of HR1 that our constituents are losing their health care that's a fact that is not just an opinion here that is a statement of data that thousands of Virginians are

[02:23:05] losing their health insurance this does something about that this puts major your money into making sure that we are taking care of the poorest among us and those who are losing health insurance who can't afford it. We have seen this cuts coming to SNAP for example. We are doing something for food assistance with this and while we have not gotten to the place where you have universal free school breakfast and lunch like I'm gonna keep pushing for and yes that that amendment's gonna come back again next year for universal breakfast. This does give us more than 17 and a half million dollars to make sure that we're They're having even more money going in to support the programs that provide essential

[02:23:44] nutrition for our students in the first place. That's a good thing, although again, there can always be more. In my district, we have $100,000 for TANF funds that are going to Northern Virginia Food Rescue. That's great because they are front-line workers here, making sure that we are taking care of people where you have lines that go around the door for food distribution.

[02:24:07] critical support. Then there's the standard deduction increase. This is targeted middle-class relief. It is targeted to people who are earning income right now who need some help. And this will go up by hundreds of dollars, which is great. It is a good start. I happen to agree that that should be made permanent long-term. I would like to see that. And this does something. This also does something regarding the earned income tax credit, making the 20% refundability, having an additional three years on that to get it out to 2030. Good. Love to see it permanent. Also good. And that is

[02:24:43] direct relief. Both of these things are direct relief to people who really need it. So to close, Madam President, I don't know what it will take for us to get both branches of government here outside of the courts to really understand and grapple with the urgency and the demand that our constituents are raising across the commonwealth right now to do something significant

[02:25:15] and major to get as the jlark report described this uncontrolled demand under control when will that happen i wish this budget presented all of the answers to it it does not but prevents the beginning it's a start and i have to vote in favor of progress at that point and i also believe that But as we are going forward here, it is going to be incumbent on all of us to listen to our constituents demanding that we do better and we do more.

[02:25:52] There is an opportunity for us in 2027 to get this completely right. And a lot of us are going to have legislation to that effect to make sure that their voices are being reflected in our legislature and in the bills that we put forward.

[02:26:07] So thank you so much, Madam President. The chair recognizes the senator from King George. Thank you, Madam President. Speaking to the measure. The senator has the floor. Thank you, Madam President. First, it's the first time I was a conferee, and I will tell you all, I had no idea how hard these conferees and the staff works.

[02:26:33] And so I don't want to step on Madam Chair's thunder. But I will tell you all, you all owe the staff a huge debt of gratitude because they worked night after night day after day trying to help get to a place that everyone could live with and it's not easy to come up with a compromise between the senate the house and the administration and so i just personally want to say thank you to april and her staff and the conferees because

[02:27:01] it was amazing and mad president um it's interesting people him and how about a budget and when people say they don't like stuff and you can always find stuff you don't like in a budget but it usually means it's a good compromise when everybody's not happy about it and i think that's what we found here even though we didn't get everything we want there's one thing i can tell you for sure there is something this addresses the entire commonwealth and the senator from

[02:27:39] portsmouth took great pains to listen to all of us to give us the ability to negotiate and to try to make sure that the entire Commonwealth of Virginia was represented in this budget, and there may not be everything that we'd hoped for or thought or wanted to be in it, but there's something.

[02:28:02] It addresses concerns over the entire Commonwealth of Virginia, and the chairman did a fantastic job. Her fortitude, her tenacity in making sure that we were represented really was phenomenal and I can't thank her enough.

[02:28:26] She gave me a lot of latitude, it was funny, because in my area, my district, we've got the Rappahannock River that runs right through the middle of it. And so we're in a situation now, we're right now in probably the worst drought I've ever seen in my lifetime and people's wells are going dry DEQ is telling my constituents that they're going to have to get off of their well and move to the Rappahannock River for their drinking water we've got data centers I think 10 now that are entitled in Stafford the city of Fredericksburg

[02:29:02] in Spotsylvania and one in Caroline they are looking to withdraw cooling water from the Rappahannock River and it was probably one of the most important issues in my district to be addressed And I know I drove April crazy, I drove the administration crazy, the house crazy, and particularly Madam Chair.

[02:29:22] But Madam Chair gave me the flexibility and she stood behind me and fought with me to address that issue. And so we were still negotiating at what? 8 or 8.30 on Friday night when this was supposed to come out at 5 o'clock last Friday.

[02:29:41] And I think everything else was done but this. and and i'm incredibly grateful for that and that is just an example of how she cared about everybody's district and i frankly haven't seen that i've been here for nearly 20 years probably too long but that is so important because we're elected to come here to represent the people who sent us here and we've got to fight for those things that are important and that was incredibly important to my district and so now what we have is in the eastern virginia groundwater management area, we have real restrictions, and you'll probably see an amendment coming next week.

[02:30:20] I hope not. I hope this issue is settled, but I fear there might be because I still was getting calls on Saturday about the restrictions were too tight, they're too tight. But it protects people. It protects people and their ability to have water to live on, and I think that's incredibly important and it goes statewide after about a couple years when DEQ does some work.

[02:30:44] So I just wanted to highlight that, you know, aside from teacher raises, employee raises, TAG support, tuition support, the expanded deduction, there's so many good things, and you can find things you don't like.

[02:31:00] In the perfect budget, you can find something you don't like. But I think this is a good budget. I think that it represents the Commonwealth, and I am very appreciative of the chairman for giving us so much latitude and supporting us in these negotiations in areas that were critical. So I hope everybody will support the conference

[02:31:23] report. The senator from Hanover. Thank you, Madam President. Madam President, rising to speak to the motion. The senator has the floor. Madam President, as we've gone through this lengthy budget process, mind you, whence we began, and that was back in December when Governor Youngkin put forward a budget and in that budget he did a number of things including the standard deduction, had raises for

[02:32:02] teacher pay, had raises for state employees, a lot of very positive things that we would all agree are in this final package. Madam President, I'll remind the body that since that time, or even in December, we knew that state revenues were growing at a faster pace than what they had been anticipated. Back in December we thought that that was about a half a billion dollars and then we move forward to now with Governor Spanberger's re-forecast we find that that's about one and a half billion dollars. Significant initial additional

[02:32:38] revenue and Madam President I'm happy to see that some of that money went to positive places like teacher pay raises and state employees pay raises. But Madam President, I still have a number of concerns about some of the other things that money went to. Some things like not funding rural sheriffs, which were in departments, those were in the initial budget, giving additional money to the executive branches for additional significant number of additional

[02:33:11] employees. There is still RGGI in this budget, and Madam President, as many of y'all are probably aware, if you receive your power from a co-op, you will continue to pay that tax in your power bill. And Madam President, this budget does not reduce or eliminate the tax that every single employee will continue to pay in their take-home check so madam president there are some positive things in this

[02:33:44] budget and I think as others have said our Senate committee staff is by and far the best staff around they do a tremendous job and many of them sacrificed their family and personal lives over the last number of months for us to come up with the final package madam president is my understanding that the governor has not yet signed off on this budget and that she will take her option to either come down with amendments or line-item vetoes that we will take up next week and I hope some of the things that are not positive will

[02:34:24] come out of this budget I'm hoping that maybe she will decide not to increase the staff in the executive branch but madam president even though there are some positive things in this budget there are not enough positive things for me to outweigh the negative things that are there and I hope we will continue to work going forward to get a budget that all 40 of us would be able to support.

[02:34:48] The chair recognizes the senator from Roanoke. Thank you Madam President. Speaking briefly to the bill. Senator has the floor. Thank you Madam President. I appreciate many items in the budget especially appreciate the attention to public education and our chair's commitment to that unfortunately though despite a surplus the benefits of the enhanced standard deduction will largely be wiped out by the envisioned sales tax increases that are planned through this

[02:35:23] budget and also Reggie and also the new payroll tax that will be coming online line and that's disappointing that that will cost Virginians more what's especially galling though is the envisioned sales tax increases will increase the tax that working Virginians pay on rotisserie chicken at the same time the largest corporations in the world will continue not to pay sales tax for their data centers and that's incredibly disappointing to me madam

[02:35:58] president the chair recognizes the senator from Colonial Heights thank you madam president arise to speak to the conference report senator has the floor matter president there's been I think most of what has been discussed today is the are the positive things that are in this budget and a budget of this size it's impossible for there not to be I think items that can be discussed as being positive but a budget is not judged just by the good things that it funds it's got to be judged as a whole as a package and I spent the entire

[02:36:37] weekend from when this budget conference report came out at about 7 o'clock on Friday reviewing this thing and it's pretty clear I think to myself and a lot of others that there are too many deals that have been cut in here too many bad policies too many major decisions that really should never be jammed into a budget conference report at an 11th hour special session like this this is more More than 600 pages long, this conference report.

[02:37:08] And it doesn't just settle differences between the House and the Senate, it creates major new policies. It includes a pay raise for legislators, for us. And it gives the data center industry kid-glove treatment while Virginia families are going to continue paying higher electric bills.

[02:37:28] And it uses this must-pass budget situation here at the 11th hour, right before the fiscal year ends while Virginia families continue paying higher electric bills. So let me start with the data centers because that's been discussed so far and that's been a big issue of contention between the House and the Senate and the governor.

[02:37:52] Many of us in this chamber agree that the data centers should not be getting the special tax break that ordinary Virginia citizens and small businesses don't get the benefit of. These are some of the wealthiest corporations in the world, but this budget does not repeal that special tax break on these data centers, on the big tech AI data centers.

[02:38:14] Instead it creates a new electricity tax on the data centers, but it sends that money to the general fund. So this is not reform, and let's be very clear about that. What it appears to me, and I think to many others, is that this is really, at the end of the day, a data center approved deal.

[02:38:34] They're ultimately, despite their protestations to the contrary, are gonna be okay with this. this was something that they could live with. If the problem is the data centers are driving up the need for the new power generation across the state, for new transmission lines, for new infrastructure, then the solution should be to protect Virginia families and small businesses who are paying the electric bills and being forced to subsidize that data center proliferation.

[02:39:03] And this budget, unfortunately, does not do that. It does not lower electric bills, doesn't stop families from paying the cost of massive data center growth, doesn't make data centers pay the full cost of the burden that they're putting on our electric grid, and it doesn't end the special tax treatment that they have been getting for the past 20 years.

[02:39:24] And so that is the part that I think Virginia needs to understand that hasn't really been addressed yet so far, is that this is not a repeal of the data center subsidy. It's not rate relief for families paying electric bills. And really, at the end of the day, this plan does not make the data centers pay the full cost of the infrastructure and power generation that they require.

[02:39:48] In reality, this is just a general fund scheme that leaves the underlying problem in place. The water and the noise pollution issues were discussed, but the language in here on water and noise pollution does not make this policy any better.

[02:40:05] On the data center water usage, the budget does not create one strong statewide water usage standard for the data centers. Some parts of Virginia do get tougher protection, but other communities get weaker protection or no protection at all.

[02:40:21] And that should concern every locality that is concerned about becoming the next target for massive data center proliferation. If this industry faces stricter water rules in one part of Virginia, it just means they're going to look for other places where the rules are weaker.

[02:40:38] That is exactly how development pressure works. So the communities across Virginia that have been left out of the tougher water protections are right to ask, why are we being left exposed? And then on the noise pollution, the answer here is it's too little too late.

[02:40:55] People living near these facilities shouldn't have to wait another three, four, five years before the process can go forward and these supposed noise regulations can come into being. And I guess that also assumes that this is going to be in future budgets, which we don't know is necessarily going to be the case.

[02:41:15] In the regulatory process, some of these rules around data centers are being exempted from the Administrative Process Act. And so that means less transparency and less public input and more opportunity for insiders to shape the rules after this budget passes.

[02:41:32] And that's exactly how we got into this mess in the first place. So to the people who have to live with the noise, the water, the electric bill consequences, they're ultimately getting pushed to the back of the line while this industry continues to get special treatment. Second major reason why I can't support this budget is the legislator pay raise. At a time when families are struggling with higher taxes and grocery bills, electric bills and housing costs, we should not be raising our pay. Working families are being told to tighten their belts, small

[02:42:09] businesses are being hit with higher costs, Virginia families are counting and watching every dollar, and this budget asks those same taxpayers to fund a pay raise for the members of this body. And that is wrong. Third problem with this budget is the retail marijuana market that hasn't been discussed. And that required to be printed in a whole separate document. It was so long, 250 pages. And I don't want marijuana shops popping up all across Virginia like they've got in Colorado and California. I don't think that's good for

[02:42:45] families, for neighborhoods, or the Commonwealth as a whole. But what makes this worse is the process by which this happened. Governor Spanberger vetoed this retail marijuana market legislation just weeks ago, and on that issue she was right. I was glad to see her veto. But now this same policy is back in the budget we're considering today, just a few days before the end of the fiscal year, and the governor has apparently totally flip-flopped, and it's a bad one. A retail marijuana market that takes 250 pages of a conference report should not be created through

[02:43:22] budget language in an 11th hour special session. Madam President, Virginia needs a budget. We've got to have a budget. I don't think we've ever had a shutdown, certainly not in modern history, but we need a budget that lowers costs, that respects taxpayers, and that protects the families who are paying the electric bills. We need a budget that focuses on core responsibilities of state government, and we need a budget process that does not use hundreds of pages of conference report language to pass controversial policies. And this report, I'm [02:44:00] sorry to say, fails that test. It gives the data center special treatment while Virginia families continue to pay higher electric bills. It gives politicians a pay raise while families struggle with rising costs. It creates a retail marijuana market across Virginia, and it grows government from the top. And Madam President, that unfortunately is not a budget that I can support, and I hope that other members will vote no as well. Thank you, Madam President. The chair recognizes the senator from Arlington. Thank you, Madam

[02:44:38] President. Madam President, I rise to speak in support of adopting this conference report. Senator has the floor. Thank you, Madam President. Sometimes I wonder what budget some of my colleagues are reading. I guess I have to remind folks it was Governor Yunkin who actually put in place the sales tax exemption that the data centers are currently enjoying without any environmental conditions and it was it's going to 2035. I mean that's what's

[02:45:12] already that's in place and here we are now trying to correct uh what i would consider uh a very in a inadequate agreement to offer to the data centers i can remember governor youngkin saying he wanted to turn virginia into the data center mecca of of the world well he almost succeeded so now we're stepping back and we're beginning to say What does this mean?

[02:45:45] What are the public impacts of having data centers? We know that data centers are here to stay. We know AI is not going anywhere. We know that the data centers are an integral part of our digital infrastructure.

[02:46:00] We will continue, Northern Virginia and Virginia as a whole, we will continue to support our nation's national security. And yes, data centers will be a part of that. They're a very big part of that. But we also have to understand what those data centers mean to our communities.

[02:46:18] And we have to understand what they're taking in terms of water usage, electricity usage, and whether we have the infrastructure to support that, and whether or not they are paying their fair share. And thank you, conferees, because they sat down and actually peeled back the onion to look at all of those issues.

[02:46:39] This budget starts to correct what I considered a gross imbalance on how the data centers have been treated. And it starts with a pay your fair share model, which actually does have a consumption tax in here.

[02:46:56] That makes some sense. I don't know if it's the right consumption tax, but we do not have a consumption tax right now. And now it's time. We also have language in this budget that talks about water scarcity. and we have transparency language about reporting on water usage we also have language that talks about the difference in a utility rate and we have language that starts a very robust study to look at the numerous issues around data centers to come up with maybe some environmental

[02:47:33] recommendations maybe to come up with size recommendations and maybe to help our partners in local government who have had a fairly free hand in approving these data centers so there's a lot on our plate here and i think this budget starts down the pathway of good public policy in that area and i think this budget has a lot of other things that give us good public policy and meet my tests of equity and fairness and economic vitality and an affordability agenda

[02:48:07] This budget substantially increases the salaries to teachers well over what Governor Youngkin presented. We're at 4% over the biennium for teacher pay. We have to get up to at least the average in teacher pay. We want to create a world-class public education, and we're there, but we need to do more. That is the economic driver of tomorrow, a world-class K-12 public education system every single one of our little ones deserves that and actually so do we as adults

[02:48:45] and i want to go on to say i mean the 50 million dollars that we're adding to the affordable housing trust fund that's going to jump start the supply of housing which we so desperately need and part of that housing will actually be affordable to families who are who are earning maybe 60 percent of the median income in their areas. That's an affordability mark. And then I'd say we'd have to go on. The HR1 budget that passed in Congress has absolutely had, and it's going to have,

[02:49:20] incredibly devastating impacts on our Virginians. And this budget steps up to try to mitigate some of those impacts. And we will not be able to mitigate all of them. We simply will not. But But we do have money set aside to help with our -- it's called the healthcare tax credit on our healthcare market.

[02:49:43] And that's going to help a little bit replace the healthcare tax credit that was not extended by Congress. We can go on. We also have incredible benefits in this budget that give us some structural integrity, if you will.

[02:50:06] set aside money I think it's about three hundred forty three hundred fifty million dollars to help us again buttress the impact of Medicaid cuts we are going to have individuals in Virginia who will be without health insurance and this budget tries to minimize that it's not going to succeed at it but it's going to minimize it we're going to try to help rural hospitals let me go on to say I am happy that Metro funding seems to be robust

[02:50:41] both for capital and operating and we have some other Reggie let me talk about Reggie a little bit I know Reggie doesn't seem to be a favorite topic but I happen to think Reggie is important the regional greenhouse gas initiative if you look at the numbers between 2022 and 2024, the state brought in $200 million in allowing Dominion to sell those credits so they could close power plants. That money was coming into the state and

[02:51:16] we were using it for flood mitigation. I mean, some of the jurisdictions in rural Virginia suffered incredible damage because of flooding. We need to have dollars to help our rural areas, help our urban areas if they're suffering from flood over from floods period and we also use the regi money of course for weatherization and we're getting cleaner air isn't that an amazing result madam chair i give you great credit and i give our staff credit this budget gives us a fair and affordable

[02:51:56] pathway forward for virginians i'm delighted to vote for it and i really hope that all of the senators here vote for this budget thank you madam president the chair recognizes the junior senator from loudon thank you madam president i rise to speak in support of the bill and also record my deep appreciation and thanks to page number 237 this the senator has the floor thank you thank you madam president um i want to raise to speak to record my deep appreciation and

[02:52:36] and gratefulness for page number 237, item 374, number 13C for a million dollars for the Pentagon 9/11 Memorial Visitor Education Center located at the Arlington National Cemetery.

[02:52:52] I'm deeply grateful because I have a personal connection to a family that was perished in the 9/11 crash. Charles Falkenberg was my wife's colleague at work. They worked side by side in the next cubes. And he and his wife, Lisa Whittington, and the two young girls, Zoe, who was eight, Dana, who was three, all perished in the 9-11.

[02:53:15] They were the youngest victims of 9-11. I'm deeply grateful for this funding to the Visitor Education Center, and I'm very grateful to the conferees. Thank you so much. Should any senators wish to state any abstentions on House Bill 30, the floor is open.

[02:53:41] The chair recognizes the senior senator from Prince William. Thank you, Madam President. Madam President, I'm abstaining pursuant to Rule 36 on Item 374, 5C, but voting on the conference report, House Bill 30 as a whole. The chair recognizes the senator from Eastern Henrico.

[02:54:01] Madam President, I am abstaining to Rule 36 on Item 220, 221, 222, 224, C26, C27, C29, item 202 1c item 202 number 2c item 202 number 3c but voting on the conference report as a whole the chair recognizes the senator from eastern fairfax madam president abstaining pursuant to rule 36 on n362 7c but voting on the conference report of hp 30 as a whole the chair recognizes

[02:54:40] the senator from eastern prince william thank you madam president madam president abstaining pursuant to rule 36 on item 40 item 40 number 1c and item 40 number 2c but voting on the conference report house bill 30 as a whole the chair recognizes the senator from portsmouth thank you madam president madam president i am abstaining pursuant to rule 36 on item number 91 number 1c item number 2 number 1c item 415 number 5c item 491 number 1c item 4-14 number 4c and

[02:55:18] item 291 number 8c but we'll be voting on the conference report as a whole the chair recognizes the junior senator from virginia beach thank you madam president i am standing pursuing to rule 36 on item 469 number 7c but voting on the conference report hp 30 as a whole thank you the question is shall the question is shall the conference committee report now be agreed to all in favor

[02:55:58] of that motion will record their votes aye those opposed no are the senators ready to vote have all the senators voted do any senators desire to change their vote the clerk will close the roll eyes 23 no 16. ayes 23 no 16 the conference committee report is agreed to memorial resolutions the chair recognizes the senator from eastern fairfax madam president i move the memorial

[02:56:36] resolutions on pages 2 through 3 SR 2016 to 2055 be considered a block in the usual manner waiving the reading of the resolutions thereof with the understanding any senator retiring to remove a resolution of a block will do so after the clerk has read the number of the resolution. The question is shall the memorial resolutions on pages 2 through 3 SR 2016 through SR 2055 be considered in a block in the usual manner waiving the reading of the resolutions thereof with the understanding that any senator desiring a resolution be removed from

[02:57:10] the block will do so after the clerk has read the title of the resolution. All in favor of that motion will say aye. Any opposed no. The ayes have it. The motion is agreed to. The resolutions are now before us in the block. The clerk will read the titles of the memorial resolutions. The Senate Senate Resolution 2016: Celebrating the life of Susan Bulkley Kellum.

[02:57:36] Senate Resolution 2017: Celebrating the life of Franklin Emmett Lewis. Senate Resolution 2019: Celebrating the life of Albert Davis Bugg, Jr.

[02:57:53] Senate Resolution 2021: Celebrating the life of Douglas Raymond Redelman. Senate Resolution 2023, celebrating the life of Edward Olmsted Henneman.

[02:58:09] Senate Resolution 2024, celebrating the life of Charles Morris Hilleman. Senate Resolution 2034, celebrating the life of Christopher Lansing Yates.

[02:58:26] Senate Resolution 2038, celebrating the life of John Frederick Reinhart. Senate Resolution 2041: Celebrating the life of Robert Gordon Barton Jr.

[02:58:42] Senate Resolution 244: Celebrating the life of Bernard L. Henderson Jr. Senate Resolution 2054: Celebrating the life of Charlie Reed Hill.

[02:58:58] Senate Resolution 2055: Celebrating the life of Knight. The resolutions will be agreed to in the usual manner, all in favor of agreeing to the memorial resolutions please rise the resolutions are agreed to commending resolutions senator from Eastern Fairfax madam president move the commending resolutions on pages 3 through 6 SR 2013 to SR 2053 be considered in the block by voice vote waving the reading of the resolutions they understand any

[02:59:38] senator's iron move resolution from the block will do so after the clerk has read a number of the resolution the question is shall the commending resolutions on pages three through six SR 2013 through SR 2053 be considered in a block by voice vote waiving the reading of the resolutions with the understanding that any senator desiring a resolution be removed from the block will do so after the clerk has read the number of the resolution all in favor of the motion will say aye those opposed no the ayes have it the motion is agreed to the The resolutions are now before us in the block, and the clerk will read the numbers of the resolutions.

[03:00:17] Senate Resolutions 2013, 2014, 2015, 2018, 2020, 2022, 2025,

[03:00:31] 2026, 2027, 2028, 2029, 2030, 2031, 2032, 2033, 2035, 2036, 2037, 2039, 2040, 2042, 2043, 2045, 2046,

[03:01:06] 2047, 2048, 2049, 2050, 2051, 2052, 2053?

[03:01:22] The question is, shall the resolutions now be agreed to? All in favor of agreeing to the resolutions will say aye. Those opposed, no. The ayes have it. The resolutions are agreed to.

[03:01:38] The Senate will be briefly at recess so that the members of the Senate finance and appropriation

[03:01:42] staff may leave the chamber. Supplemental calendar number one memorial resolutions.

[03:02:19] The chair recognizes a senator from eastern Fairfax. Madam President I move the memorial resolutions on page one SR 2057 and SR or through SR 2062 be considered in a block in the usual manner waving the reading of the resolutions thereof we understand any senator desiring a resolution be removed from the block we'll do so after the clerk has read the number of the resolution. The question is, shall the memorial resolutions on page one SR 2057 through SR 2062 be considered in a block in the usual manner waiving the reading of the resolutions thereof

[03:02:53] with the understanding that any senator desiring a resolution be removed from the block will do so after the clerk has read the title of the resolution. All in favor of that motion will say aye. those opposed no the ayes have it the motion is agreed to the resolutions are in a block senate resolution 2015

once the chamber has achieved quiet the clerk will now read the titles of the memorial resolutions senate resolution 2057 celebrating the life of walter

[03:03:32] warfield rock senate resolution 2062 celebrating the life of patricia ann riley the chair recognizes a senator from Charlottesville the chair recognizes the senator sent does a

[03:04:00] senator from Franklin County wish to speak clerk will proceed thank you yes the resolutions will now be agreed to in the usual manner all those in favor of agreeing to the memorial resolutions please rise the resolutions are agreed

[03:04:38] to commending resolutions the senator from Eastern Fairfax madam president I the commending resolutions on pages 1 through 3 SR 2056 to SR 2076 be considered in a block by a voice vote waiving the reading of the resolutions with the understanding that any senator desiring remove a resolution of the block will do so after the clerk has read the number of the resolution the question is shall the commending resolutions on pages 1 through 3 SR 2056 through SR 2076 be considered in a block by voice vote waiving the reading of the resolutions with the understanding that any senator desiring

[03:05:16] resolution be removed from the block will do so after the clerk has read the number of the resolution all in favor of that motion will say aye those opposed no the eyes have it the motion is agreed to the resolutions are now in front of us in in the block the clerk will read the numbers

[03:05:34] of the resolutions Senate resolutions 2056 2058 2059 2060 2061 2063 2064 2065 2066 2067 2068 2069

[03:06:00] 2070, 2071, 2072, 2073, 2074, 2075, 2076.

[03:06:16] The question is: Shall the resolutions be agreed to? All in favor of agreeing to the resolutions will say aye. Aye. Those opposed, no. The ayes have it. The resolutions are agreed to.

[03:06:33] The chair recognizes the senator from Eastern Fairfax. Inquiry the clerk. Does that complete today's calendar till next week? Yes sir. Is there any other business to come before the Senate? The chair recognizes the senator from Western Prince William. Thank you Madam President. Madam President Rice for a brief point of personal privilege. Senator has the floor.

[03:07:00] Thank you Madam President. First just want to offer congratulations. I know we have a whole bunch of committing resolutions for state champions for the first time in Battlefield High School history. The Bobcats have brought home the group 6 VHSL state championship so that's great to come back to Haymarket super proud of them and super proud of all of our schools in Western Prince William that made it to the state championships and state tournament this year separately madam president first I'd like to wish you and everyone's happy Pride Month I'm so glad to be here for it and it's a shame to not have Senator Evan anymore to a wish across the are you know across the chamber here but I

[03:07:37] I know he's somewhere around Capitol Square enjoying this today. But typically speaking, we can give a lot of speeches about this, about really terrible stuff that people in LGBTQ homes are facing across the country. But this is also a month of joy.

[03:07:55] And I want to talk to you about a story of resilience from my district, my constituent Evelyn. My constituent Evelyn, she lives in Gainesville with her wife, Heidi. And when Evelyn was 16, someone forcibly tried to out her. She lied back home, said, no, no, no, no, it's not true, not true, not true.

[03:08:11] But then later, when she finally did fall in love for the first time, when she came out, it didn't go well. And she spent five years on the streets in survival mode. Five years having to figure out how she was going to make it to the next day. And she told me, if I just stayed alone, stayed around for another sunrise, there would be a chance for me to get off the streets.

[03:08:38] She said that as she was choking up with me, talking to me on the phone. as I was asking her about that experience. And she took that experience, and when she came to Virginia, and she came to Western Prince William County, she decided to do something.

[03:08:57] And not only does she now run Casa Brumar, which is headquartered in Manassas, my district, but on July 10th, they're going to be having an opening for their new community center. It's going to be over in Woodbridge from 6 to 9 p.m. This is a place where, if you never got to complete high school, you can go and pursue a GED.

[03:09:18] If you need clothing, not just a typical thrift store, but stuff that's actually tailored to you, you're going to be able to go there. There's going to be a DYI tool library, kind of like a tool bank, so you can learn how to build things and fix stuff.

[03:09:33] There's going to be courses from everything from learning how to work with your hands on projects to learning how to cook in a kitchen. And you ask, why is that important? Why do you need these skills? She had to teach herself so much when she was living homeless, when she was living on the streets, and going through the worst and the worst, because when you don't have your family there to tell you this is how it's done, to take care of you, and you are having to figure this out, she understood what it meant to have to create family and to bring people in.

[03:10:11] And what she's doing on July 10th with the opening of Casa Brumor in that community is going to be so revolutionary for so many people throughout Northern Virginia. And she wanted to make a point to me that it's inclusive of everyone. Anyone can stop by. And at the same time, she also wanted to recognize that for people who needed help, who need a place to come in, she's established the walk-in part of it so that it looks like a living room because she wants everyone to know that that's home and that you're welcome there because of who you are, never despite it. I'm really proud of the work she's done and I'm proud of where Prince William County

[03:10:50] has come from being a place where I was too afraid to tell people who I am to now making sure that we actually have a place just like this that celebrates people for who they are. Thank you Madam President. Thank you Senator. The chair recognizes the senator from Western Henrico. Thank you Madam President. Madam President I rise for a point of personal privilege. Senator has the floor. Thank you Madam President. Madam President members of the body I rise to talk briefly about about educators and specifically to educators from Western Henrico County who we just voted on commending resolutions for as a as a way

[03:11:28] to kind of talk about the education profession as a whole I guess when you can start commending people it means you've been around a while and and the two people that we commended are two people who were vital to to our community who were important members of our community.

[03:11:45] First was my principal, don't hold that against him, Reggie Davenport, who just retired after a 30-year career and spent the last 16 years at Glenallen High School, including roughly the last decade as my administrator. Reggie was a true anchor in the Glenallen community and Henrico, a man who parents, teachers, students loved.

[03:12:12] He became our principal when we were going through a little bit of a rocky patch and he was just the person that we needed to calm the ship, to get everybody back in line, and to have us move forward and more importantly to have the students move forward.

[03:12:27] And, you know, I've been knocking on doors in Glenallen for a long time and a lot of people know I'm from Glenallen and I can't count the number of times where I had somebody say, Reggie Davenport's your principal, right? I love that man. And the reason they loved him is because they knew that he loved them, that he cared about them, that he was in it for them.

[03:12:51] I don't know that I've ever seen somebody work so many hours. It's a hard job being an administrator. But Reggie, who just retired, really deserves his flowers for all the work he's done for our community. The second person we passed the commending resolution for is Douglas Southall Freeman's We the People teacher, Rob Peck.

[03:13:11] Now, he's not retiring, but he is retiring from being a We the People teacher. Many of you have heard me talk about on the floor or in private about We the People. I think it's civics education done right. I think every classroom in America should have some form of the We the People program.

[03:13:28] And Rob was not one of the best We the People teachers in the state. He was one of the best We the People teachers in the country. His team's placed in the top 10 in the country multiple times. The highest they received was second, which they received this year in his last year of teaching it. I'm kind of selfishly glad he's retiring from it because he beat me more than I beat him.

[03:13:49] But it's not his places and his, you know, getting second, getting in the top 10 that makes it that he deserves recognition. Rob Peck might be the finest teacher I have ever seen in my 21 years of teaching.

[03:14:06] The work that he gets out of kids, the dedication that they have to him, the way he makes them stretch to figure out who they are and who they want to be civically is stunning. He's got kids walking around these halls that you wouldn't know about. He's got kids walking the halls of Congress. He's got kids who didn't want to go into government, but man, they care about their community and they vote. And, you know, Rob's still teaching, but it's a big loss to the We the People community that he's no longer going to be a coach. And so, you know, he also deserves recognition for that but in sum I think the thing I want to say is you know we

[03:14:45] spend a lot of time talking about education policy in this building and you guys know I have very strong opinions about a lot of that but at the end of the day I think the thing we all agree on and the thing that's really important is if you get a good teacher in a classroom and you give them the tools that they need to succeed you're gonna see kids take off and Reggie and Rob for different reasons are two prime examples of good people who had the circumstances that allowed them to just change kids lives and so I wanted to on Reggie's retirement and on Rob stepping down so I no longer have to compete

[03:15:22] against him and we the people I wanted to make sure that that we recognize them because Western Henrico are losing a strong principle and and we the people losing one of the best teachers in the country so thank you thank you senator the chair recognizes the senator from Hampton thank you madam president I rise on a point of personal privilege the senator has the floor thank you madam president madam president it's always good when people show up to come to work even when it's their special days i just want to wish uh the senator from some part of enrico a very special happy birthday and it's [03:16:00] a significant birthday i won't give you the number but happy birthday to senator aired thank you senator the chair recognizes the senator from roanoke thank you madam president arise for a a very brief point of personal privilege. Senator has the floor. Thank you madam president we're very proud in Cave Spring our girls team won their first ever state championship in soccer which is a big deal but when you're not one of the largest schools and you also are the number one state regardless of

[03:16:37] classification regardless of public or private school in the entire Commonwealth we're just grateful for all the work that they did outscoring their opponents They scored more than 100 goals, and their opponents only scored three all season long. So thank you, Madam President.

[03:16:54] Thank you, Senator. The clerk will report any announcements on the desk. This is a reminder to everyone. If you have not been contacted about an office move, Jennifer Welch and the support services staff are reaching out regarding GAB office moves.

[03:17:18] We need you to respond promptly to their phone calls. You'll have, since we've had since January to think about office moves, you'll have 48 hours to make up your mind whether you want to move or stay put.

[03:17:38] So we appreciate your cooperation on that so we can get this taken care of. We've got movers lined up to switch offices and we would like to get this taken care of as soon as possible, maybe by July 1.

[03:17:55] Thank you. recognizes the senator from Portsmouth. Thank you, Madam President. Madam President, I move that the Senate do now recess pursuant to SR-2001 until reconvened with at least 48 hours notice by the call of the chair of the Senate Committee on Rules.

[03:18:24] The question is, shall the Senate now recess pursuant to SR-2001 until reconvened with at least 48 hours notice by the call of the chair of the Senate Committee on Rules. All in favor of that motion will say aye.

[03:18:40] Any opposed, no? The ayes have it. The motion is agreed to.

[03:18:44] The Senate now stands in recess.

[03:19:31] - Senate chamber.

[03:20:33] Be sure to stay connected with live sessions, catch up on past meetings, and explore our full archives anytime

[03:20:39] on the Senate of Virginia's YouTube channel.

[03:21:43] This is the Senate of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia.

[03:22:47] Chamber.

Coraggio Consulting · aguyonx.com